

Can you name these countries? You can also try writing or drawing something about them in the spaces below!

A world map with several countries highlighted in different colors: USA (purple), UK (pink), France (red), Australia (orange), and Japan (blue). There are white boxes for labeling and drawing around the map.

- USA: A purple-shaded map of the United States with a dashed line pointing to a white box for labeling and a larger white box for drawing below it.
- UK: A pink-shaded map of the United Kingdom with a dashed line pointing to a white box for labeling and a larger white box for drawing above it.
- France: A red-shaded map of France with a dashed line pointing to a white box for labeling and a larger white box for drawing below it.
- Australia: An orange-shaded map of Australia with a dashed line pointing to a white box for labeling and a larger white box for drawing below it.
- Japan: A blue-shaded map of Japan with a dashed line pointing to a white box for labeling and a larger white box for drawing to its right.